

2nd EFSS

Nicosia, Cyprus, June 2015

Cyprus

- Cyprus has the warmest climate (and warmest winters) in the Mediterranean part of the European Union. The average annual temperature on the coast is around 24 °C during the day and 14 °C at night.
- Average annual temperature of sea is 21–22 °C from 17 °C in February to 27–28 °C in August.

Cyprus

Previous Experience

- 1st CoSaCM – June 2011 – 120 attendees from 22 countries – 88 Presentations
- 1st Cyprus Safety Platform Symposium in Critical Protection Infrastructure – February 2012 – 110 attendees – 8 presentations
- 2nd Cyprus Safety Platform Symposium in Man Made Disasters – 250 attendees – 31 presentations

Local Actors to be involved

- Department of Labour Inspection – Law enforcement agency for fire risk assessment (collaboration agreement with EUC)
- Civil Defense – in charge of handling natural catastrophes (collaboration agreement with EUC)
- Cyprus Fire Service (collaboration agreement with EUC)
- Cyprus Tourism Organization

2nd EFSS at European University Cyprus

- 4 hotels in walking distance (Hilton Park – swimming pool, Europa, Altius, Asty Hotel) with special deals
- High Class conference Center with 1 auditorium of 650 seats, 3 of 100 seats and 1 of 80 seats. Lots of meeting rooms.
- Free WiFi
- Foyer for coffee breaks and restaurant (managed by a catering company)

Opening Ceremony

- At Famagusta Gate under the auspices of the Mayor
- Famagusta Gate is the largest and most impressive of the three gates of the walls of Nicosia, Built in 1567 by the Venetians, and originally called the Porta Giuliani after its designer, it served travellers entering and leaving the city from the east of the island. The outer entrance is a simple gateway, situated just under the Caraffa bastion, which leads into a long passageway through the walls to the much larger and more impressive inner gateway.

• Questions?